Recommendations For Paul

Founding Partner

Investors FastTrack

"I was fortunate enough to work for Mr. Paul Charbonnet to analyze his product, Investors FastTrack, from an academic financial perspective, examining how well the program's methods perform and how they relate to the major tenets of traditional academic finance. During this time, I was given a chance to closely examine his investing software as well as the theory behind it.

Through my work with Investors FastTrack, I have had a chance to observe a very sharp, effective investing tool that provides investment analysis from many angles, technical and fundamental, traditional and non-traditional, using high-quality current data. As an employee of Investors FastTrack, I have had the opportunity to be a part of a very admirable company with an outstanding product, excellent customer service, and top-notch integrity, who treats their employees well.

I would recommend doing business with Paul Charbonnet to anyone who wants effective investment guidance or employment in a refreshingly upstanding environment." April 20, 2010

1st Laura Rogers, Analyst, Investment Strategy Research, Investors FastTrack reported to Paul at Investors FastTrack

"We have been using Fast Track for a number of years (do not recall when we first started) and it has always been an integral part of our investment process. The program is terrific and the technical support has always been great. We would highly recommend this program because of the quality of not only the program itself but also the quality of the people behind the program. We have known Paul Charbonnet, the founder of the company, for a number of years. What a special person." November 21, 2009

"For those involved with Technical Analysis of securities, Paul is one of those rare pioneers in the field. So much so, that he has developed indicators, techniques, reliable data and then the software to "put it all together".

It is true that Paul's approach is unique, but for many of us who use his services on a daily basis, that uniqueness is to our advantage. One of his strengths is to share his knowledge by providing access to training.

Without hesitation, I would recommend Paul Charbonnet to others, either to collaborate with or to use his extension knowledge of Technical Analysis and his software product, FasTrack." October 17, 2009

1st Tom Hamilton, Owner, Special Risk Capital Management, LLC worked with Paul at Investors FastTrack

"I have used Paul Charbonnet's database service (Fastrack) for over ten years and have found this service invaluable. From time to time I have had questions and/or issues with Fastrack and I have found Paul to be extremely knowledgeable about the inner-workings of his product/service and also about the investment process in general. Paul has an analytical mind, is a quick study, and a natural problem solver. I have found Paul to be very timely with addressing any questions or issues I have had with Fastrack and very accomodative and responsive to any and all of my requests." October 11, 2009

1st Rudy Polanski, hired Paul as a Online database and analytical investment tools in 1996, and hired Paul more than once

"I took advantage of the Paul's free trial offer to evaluate the quality of Investors FastTrack data. It is head and shoulders above the data provided by Reuters. It can take Reuters 4 to 6 weeks to update their data to reflect mutual fund distributions. Trading on bad data is hazardous to your wealth! FastTrack data is extremely accurate and is generally updated to reflect distributions within 24 hours.

Unfortunately, I am still using an older software package which doesn't import FastTrack data. I am in the process of evaluating new software, and one of my criteria is that it must be able to use FastTrack data. I expect to become a lifetime subscriber in the very near future.

Keep up the good work Paul, and feel free to share my recommendation.
